Dear honored colleagues,

It is with great pleasure that we announce that the University of Alicante will be hosting an International Week, April 4-7, 2016 at the Faculty of Economics and Business in Alicante, Spain.

Teaching staff of our partner universities are cordially invited to participate in this week of discussion, lectures and networking between UA's partner universities and international students. We kindly ask that guest speakers prepare lectures with a workshop component that last around 90 minutes. All lectures must be in English and the following topics would be much appreciated:

- Economics
- Business
- Sociology
- Advertising and Public Relations
- Social Work
- Tourism

If you are interested in participating in our International Week, please complete the following online application form as soon as possible, ideally before 20 January 2017. An itinerary along with more information on hotels and things to do in Alicante will be sent out once all participants have been confirmed.

Please do not hesitate to contact us (iw.feb@ua.es) in case you have any questions or concerns about International Week. We are looking forward to your visit!

Best wishes from sunny Alicante!
