About Beihang

Founded in 1952, Beihang University is the first institution of higher education dedicated to aeronautics and astronautics in China. As one of the top key universities in China, supported by all national initiatives such as “Project 211”, “Project 985” and the “Double First-Class Initiative”, Beihang has evolved into a leading comprehensive university today and is accelerating its development into a world-class university rooted in China.

Beihang consistently stands at the forefront of research and innovation while shaping the future with high-quality education. It encompasses 10 discipline categories: engineering, science, management, humanities, law, economics, philosophy, education, medicine, and interdisciplinary studies; and is renowned for its leading edge in various disciplines such as aerospace science and technology, instrument science and technology, materials science and engineering, software engineering, control science and engineering, computer science and technology, mechanics, transportation engineering, management science and engineering, and biomedical engineering. Eight of its disciplines have been selected into the “Double First-Class Initiative”.

Committed to openness and global engagement, Beihang has established long-term and stable partnerships with over 260 universities, research institutions, enterprises, and international organizations worldwide. It actively attracts outstanding talent globally and ranks among the leading universities in China for its level, quality and scale of international student education. At present, over 3,000 international students from more than 130 countries are studying at Beihang, creating a vibrant and multicultural community.

We warmly welcome you to join Beihang University to embark on an academic journey of excellence, innovation, and global perspective. Study at Beihang, Light the Dream.
