The DAAD is ...

- the world's largest funding organisation for international exchange.
- the independent organisation of German higher education institutions and their student bodies, devoted to internationalising the academic system.
- an experienced intermediary between higher education systems with a worldwide network.
- a German institution in Europe, which, as National Agency for Erasmus+, contributes to shaping the European Higher Education and Research Area.

The DAAD strategy 2025

The “Strategy 2025” defines three overarching goals which shape the activities of the DAAD in the coming years

- 1. Promote excellence and broaden perspectives of education and science through international exchange
- 2. Enhance international collaboration for the benefit of science, industry and society
- 3. Assume global responsibility and contribute to development and peace

STUDYING IN GERMANY

Even though education from Germany is among the best in the world, it costs less than in many other countries.

You only need to pay a small charge called semester contribution (Semesterbeitrag): between 100 and 350 euros. It also includes a semester ticket that allows you to use public transport in the region.

STUDYING IN GERMANY

- Studying in Germany is a great way to break into the international labour market.
- Germany's higher education institutions are highly regarded globally.
- Qualifications gained in Germany have a good reputation in companies, too.
- Germany is ranked among the world's top destinations for international students.

There are 429 public higher education institutions functioning in Germany among which 106 are universities. German universities are above global higher education standards.

outstanding study and research infrastructure, with well-equipped research facilities located at universities, universities of applied sciences, other research institutes, companies, and federal and state institutions.

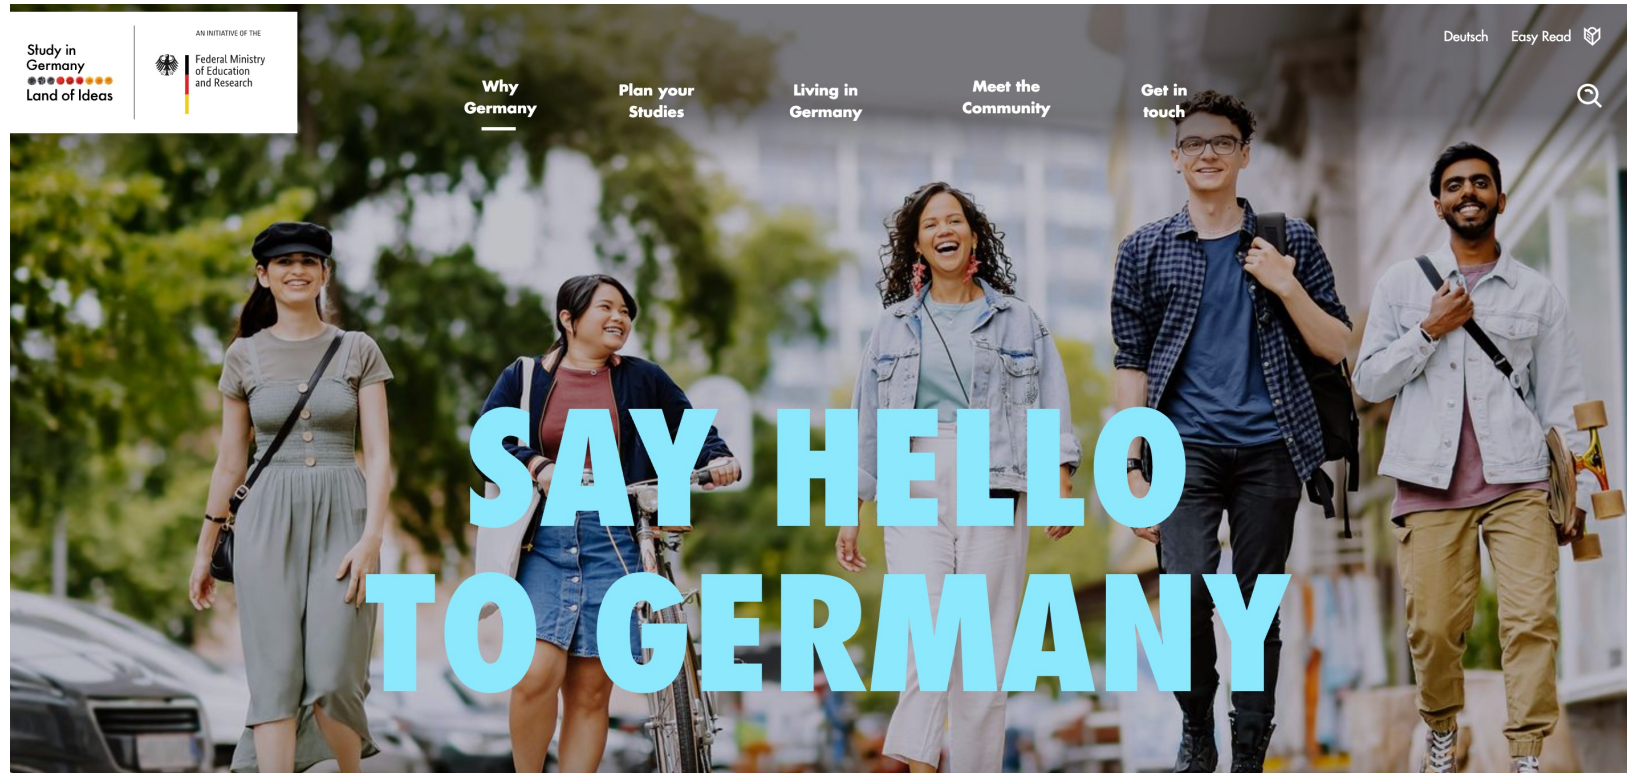

Study programmes in English

- There are more than 1800 international programmes.
- 1400 which are bachelor, master and PhD programmes
- About 800 master programmes are exclusively taught in English
- Language certificate is needed: TOEFL or IELTS
- Database: www.daad.de/international-programmes

Short Overview German Universities

- Summer semester (SS) – April to September
- Winter semester (WS) – October to March

Course timetable

University students in Germany rarely receive a fixed course timetable.

There is a certain amount of flexibility in most degree programmes which allows students to select courses that personally interest them.

Courses

Lectures (Vorlesungen) are given by a professor on a particular topic

Seminars (Seminare) and courses (Kurse) allow students to study and discuss topics in detail together and with their professors

Tutorials (Tutorien) and practical sessions (Übungen) allow students to review topics discussed in a lecture or seminar in more detail

Revision courses (Repetitorien) provide a revision of past academic work to help students prepare for an examination, for example

Colloquiums (Kolloquien) are discussion forums moderated by a professor for students who are almost finished with their degree programme

Types of examinations

- Class minutes (written summary of the results of the past lesson)
- Written examinations
- In-class presentations on a particular subject
- Termpapers on a particular subject
- Oral examinations

Help and advisers on location

- International Office
- Mentor programmes (Buddy programmes)
- Studentenwerk They allocate rooms in student halls of residence and operate the university dining halls.
- Student council has a group of elected students who represent the interests of the student body. Depending on the university, the student council is called AStA, UStA or StuRa.
